Miss Katherine,
Our conference line won't let us have more than 4 people on at one time here in Seldovia. Is it possible for you to set up a conference call in number for this?
Happy Monday,
Michael

Hi Craig,

sounds great. If that time works with Nayak and Katherine then I think we have quorum.

Thank you,

Michael

How about 1:30 pm Alaska time which would be 2:30 Pacific time? Would that work for everyone else?

Hello Michael,

We all have a place in our hearts for these surveys.

How about Tuesday, April 2 for a teleconference? Right now my time that day is pretty open. Later in that week would be tough, but Monday, April 1 (April Fools Day!) is a second choice for me. Can you take it on yourself to coordinate the day and time among the cc people here (and anyone else you invite into the call)? Perhaps the cc people could start by sending you their time preferences and constraints.

One suggestion for the call: everyone is busy, so how about if we touch on all topics, but spin off anything that is going to get deep and time-consuming for you to have a separate continuation with that specific person? Thus, at the end of the call, you would have your list of things to do, but there may need to be further contact with one or more of us. For example, perhaps we can spare some of the call participants our full discussion of standard errors.

Best wishes,

Nayak

Hi Nayak,

We are very honored that you have taken the time to read and have suggestions for us that would make this a better stronger report. We would be happy to have a teleconference call with all involved if everyone would like to. More people in on the call may give us even more suggestions to strengthen this report. The first week of April would be best for us here in Seldovia and may give others a better chance to put this time aside on their calendars as well. Please let us know and we can make ourselves available.

Thank you,
Michael

Hello Michael,

At the invitation of Lon Kissinger and Katherine Brown I read the Seldovia report with interest. It was a very ambitious and admirable undertaking for this collection of villages. Quite amazing, actually.

I feel that the data and results will be valuable as the various stakeholders try to work out some environmental standards. I also feel that the report could use a revision on some of the statistical methodology and on presentation of results (writing and displays)--before the report is officially released.

Perhaps it would be good to have a teleconference together, including any of the cc people here who wish to participate. We could go over the report in that call.

Your thoughts? If you don't mind, you could reply with your contact information.

Thank you for the opportunity to review the report.

Best wishes,

Nayak
